"A brooding Chianti Classico with dark cherries, brambles, hot stones, sage, mocha-scented oak, plum liqueur and hints of vanilla. Full body, a wealth of explosive black fruit, ripe, round tannins, a fine line of acidity and a chewy finish. Drink now."

"Aromas of black-skinned berry, ripe plum and underbrush lead the nose. The straightforward palate offers dried Morello cherry, tobacco and star anise alongside chewy tannins. Drink through 2021."

Rated 88, Monica Lerner, Wine Advocate, October 31, 2017

"This is a tempered and well-measured Sangiovese that offers as much in terms of richness as it does in aromatic intensity. The 2015 Chianti Classico Clemente VII shows lots of vibrant fruit with bold cherry and cassis at the front of the pack. It also reveals sweet spice and cinnamon derived from the oak aging. Those notes should integrate within the next few months."
