Fantini Farnese Sangiovese 2017
Gold Medal - Selection Mondiales des Vins 2018

Fantini Farnese Sangiovese 2015
Rated 88, Ian D'Agata, Vinous, August 2016

"Bright dark red. Fresh aromas and flavors of raspberry, red licorice, graphite, plus a hint of menthol. In a rather soft, approachable style, with attractive red berries supported by firm but pliant tannins. Finishes medium-long and very bright, showcasing a fruit-forward personality and immediate accessibility."

Fantini Farnese Sangiovese IGT 2016
Rated 94, Carolyn Evans Hammond, The Toronto Star,
November 18, 2017

"The generous black and red cherry core cascades with precise flavours of warm spice cake, café latte, vanilla bean, bright cranberry and cigar - all intricately woven into a lush tapestry that tastes polished and refined. Quite a find! The finish isn't particularly long but it doesn't matter much because you'll just want to keep sipping. Pour this medium-bodied thriller with short ribs braised in this same wine."

Farnese Vini SRL Sangiovese IGT 2016
Steve Thurlow, Wine Align, August 9, 2017

"The 2016 is fruity with an appealing nose of black and red berry fruit with clove, tobacco and spicy complexity. It is medium to full bodied fairly simple on the palate with the balanced ripe fruit flowing through to the finish. Very good length with a dry finish."

Farnese Sangiovese 2011
Rated 90 & Best Buy of the Year, Gordon Stimmell
- Best value wines of 2013, The Star, December 26, 2013

"Rich aromas of black cherry, leather, plum and red bell pepper lead into mellow flavours of black cherry, vanilla extract, black olives and plums. The finish is suffusive, mellow and very plummy. Food suggestion: Pepperoni or veggie pizza with red peppers."

Farnese Sangiovese 2011

Rated 90, Toronto Star, Gord Stimmell, May 23, 2013

"Rich aromas of black cherry, Moroccan leather, plum and red bell pepper lead into mellow flavours of black cherry, rich vanilla extract, black olives and plums. The finish is suffusive, mellow and very plummy with lingering acidity crying out for tomato dishes. LCBO #31971 Food suggestion: Pepperoni or veggie pizza with red peppers."

Farnese Sangiovese 2011

Rated 86, David Lawrason, WineAlign, January 2, 2013

"This mid-weight, fairly plush, soft red offers excellent value. It's not intense, complex or deep at this price but it captures good sangiovese currant-raspberry fruit and mild savoury notes in a mid-weight, easy drinking style. There is some dusty tannin, but not enough to worry about ageing. Chill lightly and open several bottles when the gang arrives. Tasted July 2012."

Farnese 2011 Sangiovese Rated 86 & Best Buy,

"Toasted almond, wild berry, plump cherry and wild raspberry open the nose on this Sangiovese, which has the varietal's characteristic freshness as well." - M.L.

Farnese Sangiovese Daunia 2010, 86 Points & Steve's Top 50
Value Picks at the LCBO, WineAlign Website, October 2011

"The 2010 is very similar to previous vintages. It is fruity clean and again a great buy to enjoy with everyday meals. The nose shows mild black and red berry fruit with a spicy note and some earthy complexity. It is medium to full bodied fairly simple on the palate with the balanced ripe fruit flowing through to the finish. Very good length with a dry finish. Best 2011 to 2013." Steve Thurlow
