Wakefield Promised Land Shiraz 2016
Rated 89, Natalie MacLean, April 11, 2018

"A solid, full-bodied Australian Shiraz with aromas of fleshy black plum and blackberries wrapped in toasty oak. Smooth texture. Great price. Pair with a rare steak."

"A big and juicy wine with lots of fruit, blueberries, blackberries and jam. I'd like to see a little more edge to this, but it is attractive in an old school way. Drink now. Screw cap."

Rated 88, David Lawrason, WineAlign, July 28, 2016

"This is a generous, quite smooth if slightly sweet shiraz with easy tannin, so fine for drinking now. The lifted, cool, well integrated cassis, blueberry pie, chocolate mint aromas are very appealing. It's medium weight, nicely smooth and refined, with slightly tart acidity. Very fine tannin. The length is good to very good. I prefer this to the more expensive Wakefield Clare Valley Shiraz."

"Nearly opaque deep purple color. Lively, fruity, spicy aromas and flavors of blueberry pie a la mode, toffee, and roasted pepper with a soft, lively, dry-yet-fruity medium-full body and a warming, intriguing, carefree black cherries, vanilla nuts, and sweet spices finish with silky tannins and moderate oak. A juicy, spicy, easy-drinking shiraz."

"Full-bodied and richly textured, this more than delivers at its suggested retail price. Grilled plums, baking spices and mocha notes provide plenty of interest, finishing creamy and supple. Drink now-2020."
